Cutting and Folding

After printing, on each side cut off all remaining white paper. To fold, start with the front cover, folding on the green line. Next fold the spine where the dark green meets the front cover. Then fold the spine where it meets the back cover. Fit the dust jacket on the book. Rotate the book so the spine is away from you. Lift up all the pages, except for the back cover of the book and, lastly, fold over the back cover flap as accurate as possible. Now that the folds are roughed in, take off the dust jacket and sharply crease on the folds. As an option, you can tape the dust jacket flaps to the front to secure it. Enjoy!

Not all that glitters is gold...especially in love.

Mia Russo is well aware that being voted “most likely to succeed” in high school doesn’t guarantee anything, especially after her political career crashes and burns. Without a plan for the first time in her life, Mia moves back home with her dad. After being rejected by the handsome local jewelry store owner who seems way too familiar, she takes a barista job while she determines her next steps.

Orphaned at a young age, Ross Manasse finally finds peace when he inherits his grandfather’s jewelry store. It’s been a tough road, and Ross is looking for quietness and stability. When his former high school tutor—someone Ross once thought of as a friend—barges into his shop looking for a job and doesn’t recognize him, his safest option is keeping her at arm’s length.

Mia’s determined to make something in her life work, but in rekindling a relationship with the grumpy jeweler, she digs up more about their shared history than they expect. Mia and Ross will need to decide what’s more important: finding success or true happiness?
